

TRANSCRIPT PREPARED BY THE CLERK OF THE LEGISLATURE
Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

March 13, 2002

LB 276

a name; and this old widow would come to him, she said, judge, every time he left court, avenge me of mine enemy. He said, woman, get out of my face. Day after day, judge, avenge me of mine enemy. Woman, get out of my face. One day he went out and she grabbed him by his robe and said, I'm not going to let you go until you avenge me of mine enemy, and he told the guard, get this woman away from me. So then the next day he got ready to come out and he saw her. So he said, woman, though I neither fear God nor regard man, you are going to drive me crazy, what do you want? She said, avenge me of mine enemy. He said, done. That's the way Senator Redfield did me. She just caught on and pulled every time I saw her. Senator Chambers, identity theft. I have big things to deal with. Senator Chambers, identity theft. So finally I said, Senator Redfield...this is what I said in my mind because I didn't want to frighten her, though I neither regard God nor fear any man, I'm going to work with you to the extent that I can, to give you what you want. Senator Brashear and the committee staff did a good amount of very good work to put the bill in the form that it's in. Senator Redfield mentioned that we have the amendment she's offering, because of an error. I want Senator Redfield to know that when the Chairman of your Judiciary Committee and the staff worked as hard as they worked, stealing from a guy who's now dead but he used to paint on television, the committee does not make errors, it has happy accidents. (Laughter) So this is a happy...this is a happy accident which we are going to accept your remedy for and spread more happiness throughout the land. Now I'm going to have to boast; I probably am the only person in the world who has an A-1 credit certification from the FBI. They were keeping a file on me, and they still may, but I stopped requesting updates. They put, at the end of one of these clusters of documents, he always pays his debts, always pays his bills on time. I didn't know the FBI went to those lengths, but that's something that I treasure. When I bought my last car, I don't talk about personal matters, but I must boast every now and then, being the modest fellow that I am, this man who is the sales person came back after he went on his computer and did whatever they do, he said, who...who'd you say you are? I said, I'm Senator Ernie Chambers, because he wanted some identification. He said, well, I know that's who you are. He said, I checked every credit bureau known to humans, you don't